

JEDDAH PREP AND GRAMMAR SCHOOL

Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy

Jeddah Prep and Grammar School recognises its responsibilities for the protection of the children in our care. Children who witness violence or are abused in any way may find it difficult to develop a sense of self-worth. They may feel helplessness, humiliation and some sense of blame. The School may be the only stable, secure and predictable element in their lives. When at School, their behaviour may be challenging and defiant or they may be withdrawn. All adults working at the School must be aware of their responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare, both physical and emotional, of every pupil inside and outside school. This involves ensuring that pupils are protected from significant physical or emotional harm and that there is a positive commitment to ensure the satisfactory development and growth of the individual.

We recognise that because of the day to day contact with children, members of the School community are well placed to observe the outward signs of abuse. The School will therefore establish and maintain an environment where children feel secure, are encouraged to talk, and are listened to, and ensure that all children know that there are adults in the school whom they can approach if they are worried. Through pastoral support, different subject curricular and discussions during mentor periods, we facilitate children in the development of the skills they need to recognise and stay safe from abuse. This policy applies to all staff, governors and volunteers working in the school.

There are five main elements to this policy:

- Ensuring we practise safe recruitment in checking the suitability of staff and volunteers to work with children;
- Raising awareness of child protection issues and equipping children with the skills needed to keep them safe;
- Developing and then implementing procedures for identifying and reporting cases, or suspected cases, of abuse;
- Supporting pupils who have been abused in accordance with their individual agreed child protection plan;
- Establishing a safe environment in which children can learn and develop.

Following best practice in the UK and Saudi Arabia, the School will;

- Ensure we have designated members of staff for child protection who have received appropriate training and support for this role. At JPGS, these people are the Child Protection Officers (the School Counsellor, John Davis and School Nurse, Amanda Healey) and the Child Protection Liaison Officer (the Head Master, Jonathan Warner);
- Ensure every member of staff, volunteer and board member knows the name of the designated members of staff responsible for child protection and their specific roles and responsibilities;
- Ensure all staff and volunteers understand their responsibilities in being alert to the signs of abuse and responsibility for referring any concerns to the designated staff responsible for child protection;

- Keep written records of concerns about children, even where there is no need to refer the matter immediately;
- Ensure all records are kept securely in Administration, separate from the main pupil files;
- Follow procedures where an allegation is made against a member of staff or volunteer;
- Develop effective links with relevant external agencies in the Kingdom and co-operate as required with their enquiries regarding child protection matters;
- Ensure safe recruitment practices are always followed.

The School will endeavour to support pupils through;

- The content of the curriculum;
- The School vision and mission, which promotes a positive, supportive and secure environment and gives pupils a sense of being valued;
- The School policies which are aimed at supporting vulnerable pupils in the school. The School will ensure that pupils know that some behaviour is unacceptable but they are valued and not to be blamed for any abuse which has occurred;
- Ensuring that in the event a pupil leaves, JPGS will ensure that the pupil's information and record is transferred to the new school.

It is vital that all staff and parents are made aware of the School's Child Protection Policy and to whom they should report any concerns.

Staff Roles and Responsibilities

Child Protection Liaison Officer (CPLO) and Child Protection Officers (CPO)

The CPLO at Jeddah Prep and Grammar School is the Head Master, supported by the School Counsellor and School Nurse who are the School's CPOs. All members of staff must understand what their roles are and ALL cases of suspected abuse should be reported to a CPO in the first instance.

The CPLO and CPOs will;

- Ensure the school's Child Protection Policy is updated and reviewed annually;
- Keep confidential, detailed, accurate, secure written records of referrals /concerns.
- Ensure all parents see copies of the child protection policy in order to alert them to the fact that the school may need to make referrals. Raising awareness may avoid later conflict if the school does have to take appropriate action to safeguard a child;
- Make themselves known to all staff, volunteers and members of the board;
- Ensure each member of staff has access to and is aware of the school's Child Protection Policy and associated procedures. This is also essential in respect of any members of staff who work part time or work with more than one school, such as peripatetic music teachers;
- Act as a source of advice, support and expertise within the school and are responsible for coordinating action regarding referrals by liaising with relevant agencies over cases of abuse and allegations of abuse, regarding both pupils and members of staff;
- Should attend any relevant CPD courses and then ensure that any new or key messages are passed to other staff, volunteers and governors.

Child protection records should include the date, event and action taken. Reports prepared for child protection meetings should focus on the pupil's:

- Educational progress and achievements
- Attendance
- Behaviour
- Participation
- Relations with other children and young people
- Appearance, where appropriate
- Interaction with other children and adults

If relevant, reports should include what is known about the pupil's relations with his or her family and the family structure. Reports should be objective and based on evidence. They should distinguish between fact, observation, allegation and opinion.

The School will:

- Make reports available to the pupil's parents prior to the child protection conference unless to do so would place the pupil at risk of significant harm;
- Provide written reports to the appropriate authorities, and arrange for an appropriate person from the school to attend meetings if required;
- Transfer any child protection records if the pupil moves schools.

The CPLO and CPO also have an important role in ensuring all staff and volunteers receive appropriate training. All staff should have training in child protection through on-going CPD sessions. This should be relevant to their needs to enable them to identify and report any concerns immediately. They must be aware of how to identify abuse and know when it is appropriate to refer a case. Furthermore, nominated staff must have a working knowledge of how Child Protection systems operate in Saudi Arabia.

Responsibilities of all Staff

If a member of staff suspects that a pupil is a victim of abuse or they have reason to believe that he/she is at risk from abuse, they should be aware of the procedures for reporting their concerns. Pupils may confide in any member of the School Community: they do not always go to teachers.

Staff to whom an allegation is made should remember:

- Yours is a listening role; do not interrupt the pupil if he or she is freely recalling significant events. Any questions that may be needed to clarify what the pupil is saying should be framed in an open manner and you should not lead the pupil in any way.
- Do not give undertakings of absolute confidentiality: this cannot be supported.
- Make notes of the discussion, as soon as possible (but within 24 hours) to pass on to the CPO or CPLO. The note should record the time, date, place and people who were present as well as what was said, as this may be required to support subsequent legal action.
- Once you have informed the CPLO or CLO, your responsibility in terms of referring concerns ends at this point. You should be aware, however, that you may have future role in terms of supporting or monitoring the pupil, contributing to the assessment or implementing child protection plans.

In order to protect children, Jeddah Prep and Grammar School has strict procedures for appointing staff. These procedures are regularly updated and must be followed in all cases.

Private Meetings

Staff and volunteers should be aware that private meetings with individual pupils may give rise to concern. There will be occasions when a confidential interview or a one-to-one meeting is necessary. Such interviews should be conducted in a room with visual access, or an area which is likely to be frequented by other people. Another pupil or adult should be present or nearby. Where such conditions cannot apply, staff should ensure that another adult knows that the interview is taking place. Meetings with pupils away from the School premises should not typically take place and thus only be arranged with the specified approval of the Head Master and the prior permission of the parents of the pupil concerned.

Physical Contact with Pupils

Physical contact may be misconstrued by a pupil, parent or observer. Touching pupils, including well intentioned gestures such as putting a hand on a shoulder, can, if repeated regularly, lead to serious questions being raised. As a general principle staff must not make gratuitous physical contact with their pupils. There may be occasions where a distressed pupil needs comfort and reassurance which may include physical comforting of the type a caring parent would give. The degree of such comfort is dependent on need, age and developmental maturity. Staff should use their discretion in such cases to ensure that what is normal and natural does not become unnecessary and unjustified contact, particularly with the same pupil over a period of time.

Some members of staff are likely to come into physical contact with pupils from time to time in the course of their duties. Staff should be aware of the limits within which such contact should properly take place and of the possibility of such contact being misinterpreted.

There may be occasions where it is necessary for staff to restrain a pupil physically to prevent them from inflicting injury to others, self-injury, damaging property, or causing disruption. Examples may be:

- A pupil attacks a fellow pupil or member of staff;
- Pupils are fighting;
- A pupil is engaged in deliberate vandalism to school property;
- A pupil is causing or is at risk of causing injury or damage by accident, medical need such as a seizure, rough play or by misuse of dangerous materials or objects;

In such cases, the member of staff should remain calm and wherever practicable tell the pupil to stop and what will happen if he or she does not. Judgement must be exercised before intervening physically – staff should not intervene in an incident without help (unless an emergency) if there is risk of injury to themselves. If intervention is necessary, only the minimum force necessary may be used and any action taken must be to restrain the pupil. Where members of staff have taken action to restrain a pupil they should make a written report of the incident and inform their Head of School and/or Head Master as soon as practical but within twelve hours of the incident.

Procedures for Handling suspected cases of Child Abuse

In all cases where staff have concerns that a pupil is being abused or is at risk of being abused (whether the pupil says anything or not) they must report their concerns to the CPLO. The CPO may, if necessary, interview the pupil to clarify the nature of an allegation or suspicion, before deciding on an appropriate course of action. If necessary, an immediate referral will be made to the relevant local authorities. School staff (including the CPOs and the CPLO) should not investigate reports of physical or sexual abuse themselves. Alleged victims, perpetrators, those reporting abuse and others involved should not be interviewed by school staff beyond the point at which it is clear that there is an allegation of abuse.

If a pupil is in need of urgent medical attention and there is suspicion of abuse, the CPO will notify the CPLO and take the pupil to the nearest hospital. The CPLO will inform the local authorities that the child has been taken to hospital and that it is suspected that abuse may have occurred. In case of serious harm, the police should be informed from the outset. In cases not requiring urgent medical attention the CPLO will discuss cases with, or refer cases to, the authorities and they will advise on the next step(s) to be taken. The CPLO may wish to clarify with the investigating agencies when, how and by whom the parents and the pupil will be told that a referral has been made. A member of staff who knows the pupil best should be prepared to contribute to the strategy discussion to further the school's knowledge of the pupil.

Whether or not to make a referral which could activate an investigation is a serious decision and will require careful judgement. In all cases it is essential that accurate written records are kept of all that has occurred stating the facts of the abuse, including timings, explanations, those present etc. and any action taken.

Adults in schools are used to handling confidential information about children but it may create conflict when they have to disclose such information. In cases of actual or suspected abuse the best interests of the child are paramount. Given their daily contact with pupils in a variety of situations, members of staff are vulnerable to allegations of abuse, whether deliberately or innocently false, malicious or misplaced. However, staff should avoid making their own judgements of whether an allegation is false or otherwise.

Allegations against a member of staff or volunteer must be reported immediately to a CPO or the CPLO. An allegation of abuse by a teacher or volunteer will be taken very seriously unless the allegation is demonstrably false. All such allegations will be investigated thoroughly. Pending a full investigation, the member of staff may be suspended from duty, with pay, although in no way is this considered an admission of impropriety. The quick, consistent and fair resolution of the allegation will be made a clear priority for the benefit of all concerned. External agencies may be contacted given the nature of the allegation; this decision would be taken by the Head Master in consultation with the Board of Governors. Staff may also face disciplinary action where, after investigation, serious concerns remain and there is evidence, even though external agencies may have decided that they are not able to proceed any further with the case. The School will notify anyone requesting a reference to work with children of any reason why the member of staff concerned may not be suitable to work with children. An allegation against a CPO must be notified to the CPLO immediately. An allegation against the Head Master (CPLO) should be notified to a CPO who will inform the Chairman of the Board of Governors.

Whilst every effort is made to ensure that the School's practices and policies do not put children at risk, situations may exist that have been overlooked, or new situations which have developed, that need challenging on child protection grounds. No one should hesitate to take action to report concerns because of fear of possible repercussions. Any person who makes a report to the CPO in good faith of any concern or allegation about school practices or the behaviour of colleagues which are likely to put pupils at risk of abuse or other significant harm, can expect immunity from retribution or disciplinary action.

Signs of Child Abuse

All staff must be alert to signs of possible abuse and know to whom to report any concerns or suspicions. Individual indicators of abuse may not be particularly worrying in isolation, but in combination they can suggest that there is serious cause for concern.

Indicators of physical abuse may include:

Bruises

- To the eyes mouth or ears;
- Fingertip bruising (grasp mark);
- Bruises of different ages in the same place;
- Outline bruises (prints of hands, belts shoes, etc.);
- Bruises without obvious and verifiable explanations;

Burns, Bites and Scars

- Clear impressions of teeth (more than 3cm across unlikely to have been made by a child);
- Burns or scalds with clear outlines;
- Small round burns which may be from cigarettes;
- Large number of different aged scars;
- Unusually shaped scars;
- Scars that indicate the child did not receive medical treatment;

Other Injuries

- Poisoning, injections, ingestion or other applications of damaging substances including drugs and alcohol;
- Female genital mutilation, including female circumcision;

Indicators of neglect include children who are:

- Not receiving adequate food;
- Exposed to inadequate, dirty and or cold environments;
- Abandoned or left in circumstances without appropriate adult supervision which are likely to endanger them;
- Withheld from appropriate medical advice or treatment;

Indicators of sexual abuse include:

- Sexually transmitted diseases;
- Recurrent urinary infections;
- Genital and rectal itching and soreness;
- Unexplained bleeding and discharges;
- Bruising in genital region;
- Sexual play/masturbation that is inappropriate to a child's age, development and circumstances;

- Sexually abusive behaviour towards other children, particularly those younger and more vulnerable than themselves;
- Unexplained pregnancy;

Indicators of emotional abuse include:

- Abnormally passive, lethargic or attention seeking behaviour;
- Specific habit disorders, e.g. faecal smearing, excessive drinking, eating unusual substances and self-harm;
- Severely delayed social development, poor language and speech development not otherwise explained;
- Excessively nervous behaviour such as rocking or hair twisting;
- Low self-esteem;

The following indicators may occur to any children being abused but are particularly important in cases of sexual or emotional abuse where outward physical signs may not be present:

- Involuntary passing of urine;
- Sleeping and eating disturbance;
- Recurrent abdominal pains;
- Recurrent headaches;
- Social withdrawal;
- Restlessness and aimlessness;
- Inexplicable school failure;
- Poor trust and secretiveness;
- Indiscriminate and careless sexual behaviour;
- Self-mutilation and other forms of self-harm;
- Hysterical fits, faints, etc.
